At the town meeting of March, 1899, the town voted to accept the state's offer of one hundred dollars to start a town library.

The trustees chosen to look after the same are pleased to report, that, although their work was unavoidably delayed by the illness and death of the secretary of the state board of trustees, they have now attended to their duties. The library is now in running order, and is liberally patronized.

On account of the inconvenience occasioned by the delay, the state board allowed your committee to make their own selection, which they did in the most careful manner, choosing scientific works, history, biography, fiction, poetry, and other miscellaneous works.

In making this selection, we have endeavored not only to please, but to elevate the taste of all classes of readers.

Mrs. Walter S. Langmaid offered to give her services as librarian for this year, and deserves much credit for the manner in which she has done her work.

Miss A. A. Brigham has shown great interest in the new library, not only in rendering valuable aid in selecting the books, but by making liberal contributions to it herself. She has also interested her many friends, so that thirty-seven volumes have been contributed.

The library contains about two hundred and twenty-five volumes, a good beginning point, which we hope, through the town appropriation and the generosity of friends, will become a large library, a credit to the town, and stimulating all to higher education, thereby increasing the value of their influence and raising the standard of citizenship.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

To the Inhabitants of the School District of the town of Chichester :

We submit the following report of schools for the year ending February 15, 1900.

The wheels of time have made another revolution, and we are again brought to the time when we are called upon to make our annual report of the conditions of your schools for the past year. The same general thoughts respecting the subject of education naturally recur from year to year. We must consider how we may best advance the interest of our schools, and in what way the culture they afford shall be best adapted to the demands of practical life. We are called upon to enforce a system of education for those who will soon mould society and supply the places of the receding generation.

DISTRICT NO. 1.

The first term was taught by Mrs. Jennie M. Perkins, a teacher of much experience, who was liked by scholars and parents. Mrs. Perkins has taught several terms in town, and her reputation as a teacher is well established.

Mr. Byron Whittemore taught the second and third terms, and steady progress was made by the school in both discipline and scholarship.

BEAR HILL.

The spring term of ten weeks was taught by Miss Florence A. Stevens. Miss Stevens is a thorough teacher, the best of order prevailed, and the pupils made good progress under her instruction.

The fall and winter terms were taught by Miss Laura Buehler, who is an earnest teacher, good order prevailed, and general satisfaction was given.

HORSE CORNER.

Miss Gyrtta Bartlett who had previously taught several terms in this district was secured as teacher for the spring term. Miss Bartlett had the love and respect of all her pupils and gave satisfaction in all respects.

Miss Agnes Greeley had charge of the fall and winter terms. This was Miss Greeley's first experience in teaching, and we could not expect great results, but she worked hard and proved herself a suitable person for the position.

CENTRE.

The entire school year of thirty weeks was taught by Miss Elizabeth McKerley, who is a teacher of considerable experience. Not only was there a steady intellectual improvement from the first to last, but with the twenty-eight to thirty pupils, ranging in ages from five to sixteen, there was a marked improvement in deportment, the children did credit to themselves and their teacher.

DISTRICT NO. 8.

In this school it was thought advisable to retain Miss Blanche H. Emerson, who had taught the second and third terms of the previous year. Under her instruction those scholars who attended regularly during the three terms made a marked improvement in the various branches of study.

NEW DOVER.

Miss Ida Jones taught the spring term, and proved herself a good scholar although a little lax in discipline.

The fall and winter terms, Miss Delia Demers, teacher, were very much broken up by sickness and the irregular attendance of some of the pupils, consequently the progress was not as marked as might have been expected with so thorough and painstaking a teacher.
